Dominion Bazaar Stamp Co. Toronto (ca. 1877)

cc2316. The Dominion Bazaar was an early and short-lived philatelic magazine published by L. B. Greenslade in Yorkville and Toronto, Ontario. The first issue appeared in May 1877. By the final issue in 1881, the magazine had morphed into an eight-page illustrated "Amateur's and Fancier's guide to profit, amusement, pet stock and home interests". Probably about 1877, the company advertised by overprinting "DOMINION / BAZAAR / Stamp Co. / TORONTO" in black on the 3c Canada Small Queen stamp. It is not clear whether the overprint was done on mint stamps used for correspondence, or on used stamps included as a promotion with the magazine. Ref.: BNAT#60p126. Rarely seen.
