

VE DAY

After Adolph Hitler committed suicide on April 30, 1945, his successor, Admiral Karl Doenitz, sent General Alfred Jodl to offer an unconditional surrender on May 7, 1945, in Rheims, France. This was broadcast on German radio, after which Prime Minister Winston Churchill immediately announced that May 8th

VE DAY

During WWII, Japan was given an ultimatum to surrender on July 28th 1945. When this was ignored, the U.S. dropped an atomic bomb on Hiroshima, and then on Nagasaki three days later. On August 15th, 1945 the Allies then celebrated their victory over Japan, although the Japanese administration under General Koiso Kuniaki did not officially surrender with a signed document until September 2nd. On that date

THE BATTLE FOR STALINGRAD (1942-1943) WAS ONE OF THE MOST MEMORABLE EVENTS OF WORLD WAR II. FEW WOULD DISAGREE THAT THE LOSS OF THE GERMAN 6TH ARMY HERE REPRESENTED THE TURNING POINT OF THE EASTERN FRONT DURING WWII.

BATTLE OF BRITAIN THE BATTLE WAS FOUGHT OVER BRITAIN BETWEEN JULY 10TH AND OCTOBER 31ST, 1940. IT WAS THE ONLY BATTLE IN MILITARY WARFARE THAT WAS FOUGHT ENTIRELY IN THE AIR.

"Cleric" of the Sea

Early beliefs in the notion that every being on earth had a counterpart in the sea led to the envisioning of a "sea bishop," whose portrait was published in 1554 by the Frenchman Guillaume Fondet (1507-66). Pictured was a fish-like creature with skin markings imaginatively constructed as facial features and as ecclesiastical accoutrements.

The Queen of the Orkney Islands

by Laura E. Richards

Oh, the Queen of the Orkney Islands,
She's traveling over the sea;
She's bringing a cuttle-fish with her,
To play with my baby and me.
Oh, his head is three miles long, dear;
His tail is three miles short;
And when he goes out, he wriggles
his snout.

How the Whale Got Its Throat

When a mariner and his raft were swallowed by a whale, the mariner built a grate from pieces of the raft and wedged it into the throat of the whale. This resulted in a narrowed throat, allowing the whale to swallow only the smallest fish, shrimp and krill. After building the grate, the mariner escaped from the whale.

Merman

It is said that the concept of a merman could have grown out of an imaginative viewing of a walrus. Not known for its beauty, the merman was described as floating upright, with webbed fingers, a beard, deep set eyes, two protruding teeth and covered with reddish brown hair.
