The diagonal bisection of the 1d. was authorised by a P.O. notice dated 20 November, 1861. Specimens are only of value when on original envelope or wrapper. The authority was withdrawn as from 1 December 1872. Fakes are frequently met with. Other bisections were unauthorised.

The so-called "dollar variety" of the 1s. occurs once in each sheet of stamps in all shades and in later colours, etc., on the second stamp in the second row of the left upper pane.

All values except the 3d. are known imperf. mint only.

There are two types of watermark in the 3d. and 1s., one being short and squat and the other elongated.

The paper of No. 67 is a bright yellow and the gum rough and dull. No. 67a is on practically the normal creamy "pale yellow" paper and the gum is smooth and shiny. The paper of No. 67b approaches the "coffee" colour of the true "orange-buff", and the colours of both head and frame are paler, the latter being of a carmine tone.

RED CROSS LABELS

A voluntary organization, the Jamaica War Stamp League later the Jamaica Patriotic Stamp League, was founded in November, 1915 by Mr. Lewis Ashenheim, a Kingston solicitor. The aims of the League were to support the British Red Cross collect funds for the purchase of aircraft for the Royal Flying Corps and the relief of Polish Jews.

One fund-raising method used was the sale, from 1 December 1915 of 1/4d. charity labels. These labels, which were available from post offices, depicted a bi-plane above a cross and were printed in red by Dennison Manufacturing Company, Framingham, U.S.A., the stamps being perforated 12 except for those along the edges of the sheet which have one side imperforate.

From 22 December, 1915 supplied of the labels were overprinted "JAMAICA" in red, the colour of this overprint being changed to black from 15 January, 1916. Copies sold from 11 March, 1916 carried an additional "Half-penny" surcharge, also in black.

Such labels had no postal validity when used by the general public, but, by special order of the Governor, were accepted for the payment of postage on the League's official mail. To obtain this concession the envelopes were to be inscribed "Red Cross Business" or "Jamaica Patriotic Stamp League" and the labels used endorsed with Mr. Ashenheim's signature.
