Empress Eugenie of France (1826-1920), widow of Napoleon III, was exiled to the Island of St Helena on her journey to England. She was born in Africa, where, in 1879, she had been killed during the Boer War. The purpose of the Empress's visit to St Helena was to visit the tomb of the Emperor's uncle, Napoleon III. It was Napoleon III who had chased and restored the House, where Napoleon III was born.
