Write now

'Write Now!' Letter-pack

Writing letters is often the best way of getting things done and expressing personal feelings. The 'Write Now!' Letter-pack is an attractive set of quick-reference cards containing helpful hints and sample letters presented in a practical and informal style. Covering a range of letter-writing themes, from job applications and consumer complaints to letters of the heart, it will be an interesting and valuable aid for both the regular and infrequent letter writers in the family.

Simply enclose four 12p stamps together with your name and address on the back cover of this book and send now to:

Recipe cards with a message!

A special set of five attractive recipe cards and envelopes, featuring five different recipes, has been put together by the Royal Mail for you to use yourself or send as a gift. Each card has one of the following delicious recipes on the front and plenty of space to write a greetings message on the reverse. Recipes: baked prawns in butter; home-made mushroom soup; chicken and herb balls; three fruits marmalade and summer pudding.

The recipes were written (and tested) by Henrietta Green and the cards illustrated by Flo Bayley. The five cards and envelopes (worth £1.50) are offered by the Royal Mail for four 13p stamps.

How to apply

- Enclose four 13p stamps

Designed by John Gibbs
Printed by Harrison & Sons Limited, November 1982

This design, which was used on all values above 1/- during the reign of King George V, had the longest life of any series of high values. Issued in 1913, the same basic design remained in use until the King George VI issue appeared in 1939. The Seahorse design was prepared by Bertram Mackennel and the dies were engraved by J A C Harrison.

During this period, there were three printers, though only one of them, Waterlow Bros and Layton, as La Rue took over the business in 1919. The design was introduced. The material will be held at the British Library from 6 May 1983.

Garden Path

Ideas for your Garden

Whether you have a country garden or city windowbox, gardening can be great fun... especially if you have some expert help!

The Royal Mail and Practical Gardening magazine have written a booklet, packed with gardening ideas and problem solving suggestions. Geoff Hamilton of BBC Gardener's World has written the foreword and the 24 page booklet includes advice on growing roses and looking after houseplants, plus lots of ideas on how to plan a windowbox, hanging basket... and even a full scale garden! Also included with the booklet is an enquiry card, offering you the opportunity to write to Practical Gardening's panel of experts for their free advice on one of your gardening problems!
